

Workshops on India

Welcome to this site on India.

My name is Peter Johansen. I'm an expert on contemporary India, and the general purpose of Indien.dk is to provide information on India today. I also provide workshops in English on this topic for companies engaged in activities in India. I speak English fluently.

I was born in Ireland and lived 12 years abroad, graduating from the European School in Bruxelles. I've travelled extensively and worked as an English teacher in Thailand. During the last 15 years I've worked as an IT consultant and project manager on international projects, roll-outs and outsourcing, where English was the language of choice.

Workshops differ from presentations on the following accounts:

- They have a minimum duration of one day
 - Content is more customer-specific
 - Format is to a higher degree based on dialogue and group activities

The workshops are structured into separate modules, each focussing on specific topics. Content can be adapted to customer specific requirements. A one day workshop will either consist of one module or a combination of two modules.
